I am very thankful to a number of persons and organizations for their cooperation coordination, inspiration and support to complete my graduation with this valuable document in Chiang Mai University. My truthful thanks are to all academic and administrative staffs of Multiple Cropping Center (MCC), who have provided me a homely and friendly environment during my study period in Chiang Mai University

First of all, I am very grateful and indebted to my thesis advisor Assoc. Prof. Dr. Aree Wiboonpongse for her encouragement, support and guidance from original conceptualization of proposal to finalization of thesis in this form. Similarly, I am also gratifying to Assoc. Prof. Dr. Songsak Sriboonchitta, Asst. Prof. Dr. Pattana Jierwiryapant and Ajarn Phrek Gypmantasiri is the member of thesis examination committee, who has provided me with invaluable comments, suggestion and guidance during my study at MCC, Chiang Mai University.

Further, I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Methi Ekasingh, Prof. Dr. Benchaphun Ekasingh, Asst. Prof. Dr. Chanchai Saenchyosawat, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Attachai Jintarwat, Asst. Prof. Dr. Kamol Ngamsomsook, and Dr. Jirawan Kitchaicharoen for their lecture, constructive comments and suggestions to complete this program and research.

There should be a thanking statement to my donor, the TICA (Thailand International development Cooperation Agency) who was provided me a scholarship. Without their help, probably I would not be able to study at Chiang Main University. I also want to thanks Ms. Woraluck Suteerawantana (khun Om), the former program's secretary and Ms. Chatnapa Prommanon (khun O) new program's secretary for their kindness and helpful in solving many difficult situation while I was staying Chiang Mai. My thanks also extent to all of MCC staff for their help and warmths.

I am thankful to senior friends Sieng, Rajendra, Yadu, Poch and Khaing Khaing. My classmates Duc, Manjula, Soemama, and Wilawan, and junior friends Yopaporn, Zaw Wan, Soe Soe Win and Gyawali for their cooperation and immense help during my study period.

I would like to thanks my manager Mr. Huynh Tran Quoc for his help and encouragement before and during I study in Chiang Mai and this study, without his help I can not enjoy this program. Then my thanks go to my colleagues Mr. Le Van Gia Nho, Nguyen Van An, and Le Thi Dao for their help to survey and find data, also their commend in this study. My deeply thanks go to Dr. Tran Thanh Be, Dr. Luu Thanh Duc Hai in Can Tho University for their usefully recommendation and suggestion.

My special thank to Prof. Dr. Peter H. Calkins for his helping to correct the English grammar. I would like to thanks my Thai friend Mr. Ong-Art Liangphansakul, and Mr. Rahut Ruamphanphong to help me translate abstract from English to Thai.

This thesis could not be done without the helping from extension officers in Long An province, Tien Giang province and An Giang province, as well as more than hundred farmers and traders in the three above provinces who spend their time to provided me the information.

Finally, my greatest appreciation goes to my family's members who always give their loves, inspiration, supports and helping during I stay in Chiang Mai. Special, Dinh Thi Nhung, Nguyen Kim Thuy Duong and Nguyen Kim Tien Dat who always share the happiness and sadness during I stay in Chiang Mai, Thai land.
