ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The successful completion of this thesis was made possible only by the contribution of encouragement, knowledge, help, guidance, and constructive criticism from many individuals.

First of all, I would like to express my sincere gratitude and deep appreciation to my thesis advisors, Associate Professor Dr. Benchaphun Ekasingh and Assistant Professor Dr. Chanchai Sengchyoswat for all their inspiring advice, constant guidance and strong support from proposal preparation to the completion of this research. I am highly grateful to their hard working and insightful for traveling far distance from Thailand to Lao PDR to offer encouragement and excellent supervision, they also take credit for sharing their experiences and their guidance in the process of field data collection as well.

My sincere thank goes to all of lecturers in Center for Agricultural Resource Systems Research, Faculty of Agriculture, Chiang Mai University who shared knowledge and experiences to complete my study successfully. My appreciate thankful goes to Mrs. Juthamat Onpraphai (Phi Jum) the program officer, for her kind helpfulness to all of the foreign students in every aspect on administrative matter.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude and deep appreciation thankful to my sponsor, the Thailand Research Fund (TRF) for granting the scholarship throughout my graduate study. I also would like to thank Associate Professor Dr. Attachai Jintrawet and Mrs. Karnpitcha Bunsiri who are provided all the conveniences and responsible to manage financial support during my study period.

I am thankful to my classmates' master students Mr. Min Zaw Oo, Mrs. Kamani, and classmates Ph. D students Ms. Suchanee Subsomboon, Ms. Panitpim Sittisak. Master senior friends Mr. Khamko Thammavong, Mr. Ngyun Noc Son Hai, Ms. Myint Myint Kiang. Ms. Ei Ei Cho and Ms. Theint Theint Aung for their cooperation and help during the study period.

My thanks also go to the Lao students union, senior and junior Lao students at Chiang Mai University for their encouragement, good suggestion and help during my study time

Again, I wish to express my cordial thanks to the director and all of the staffs of Northern Agriculture and Forestry College (NAFC) for their encouragement and let me leave for further study in abroad to gain more knowledge and experiences. I would like to special thanks village head man, keys informant and all of participants from Sanghai, Phonsavang and Thinchaleon village for their appreciate cooperation in an interview, group discussion and providing the information during field data collection.

Last but not least, I am grateful to my parents, who continue to work hard to support our family and provide the opportunity for all of us to study. I am not the only one who has a chance to study a master level in abroad my brother also graduated his master degree from Soviet Union and Chiang Mai University, Thailand in 2003.

I am blessed with love, patience, inspiration and encouragement of my wife and her parents who were taken great care of my son during my absence for the 2 year program of my study in Thailand.
