ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Firstly, I would like to express my deep gratitude to my thesis advisor, Associate Professor Dr. Attachai Jintrawet for his enthusiastic leadership, important guidance and support from the early stages of proposal formulation to the completion of this thesis. I would also like to thank Assistant Professor Dr. Chanchai Sangchyoswat, my co-advisor, for his encouragement and valuable advice. Moreover, I would like to extend my sincere thanks to Dr. Methi Ekasingh, my external examiner for his valuable remarks during my thesis defense.

Moreover, many thanks go to all academic and administrative staffs of MCC, who have provided me a homely and friendly environment during my study period at Chiang Mai University. Special thanks go to all my classmates for their help and kindness to me. In addition, I cannot say exactly how grateful I am to Ministry of Agriculture and Irrigation, Myanmar and Thailand International Development Cooperation Agency (TICA), for granting me the scholarship to carry out my master studies.

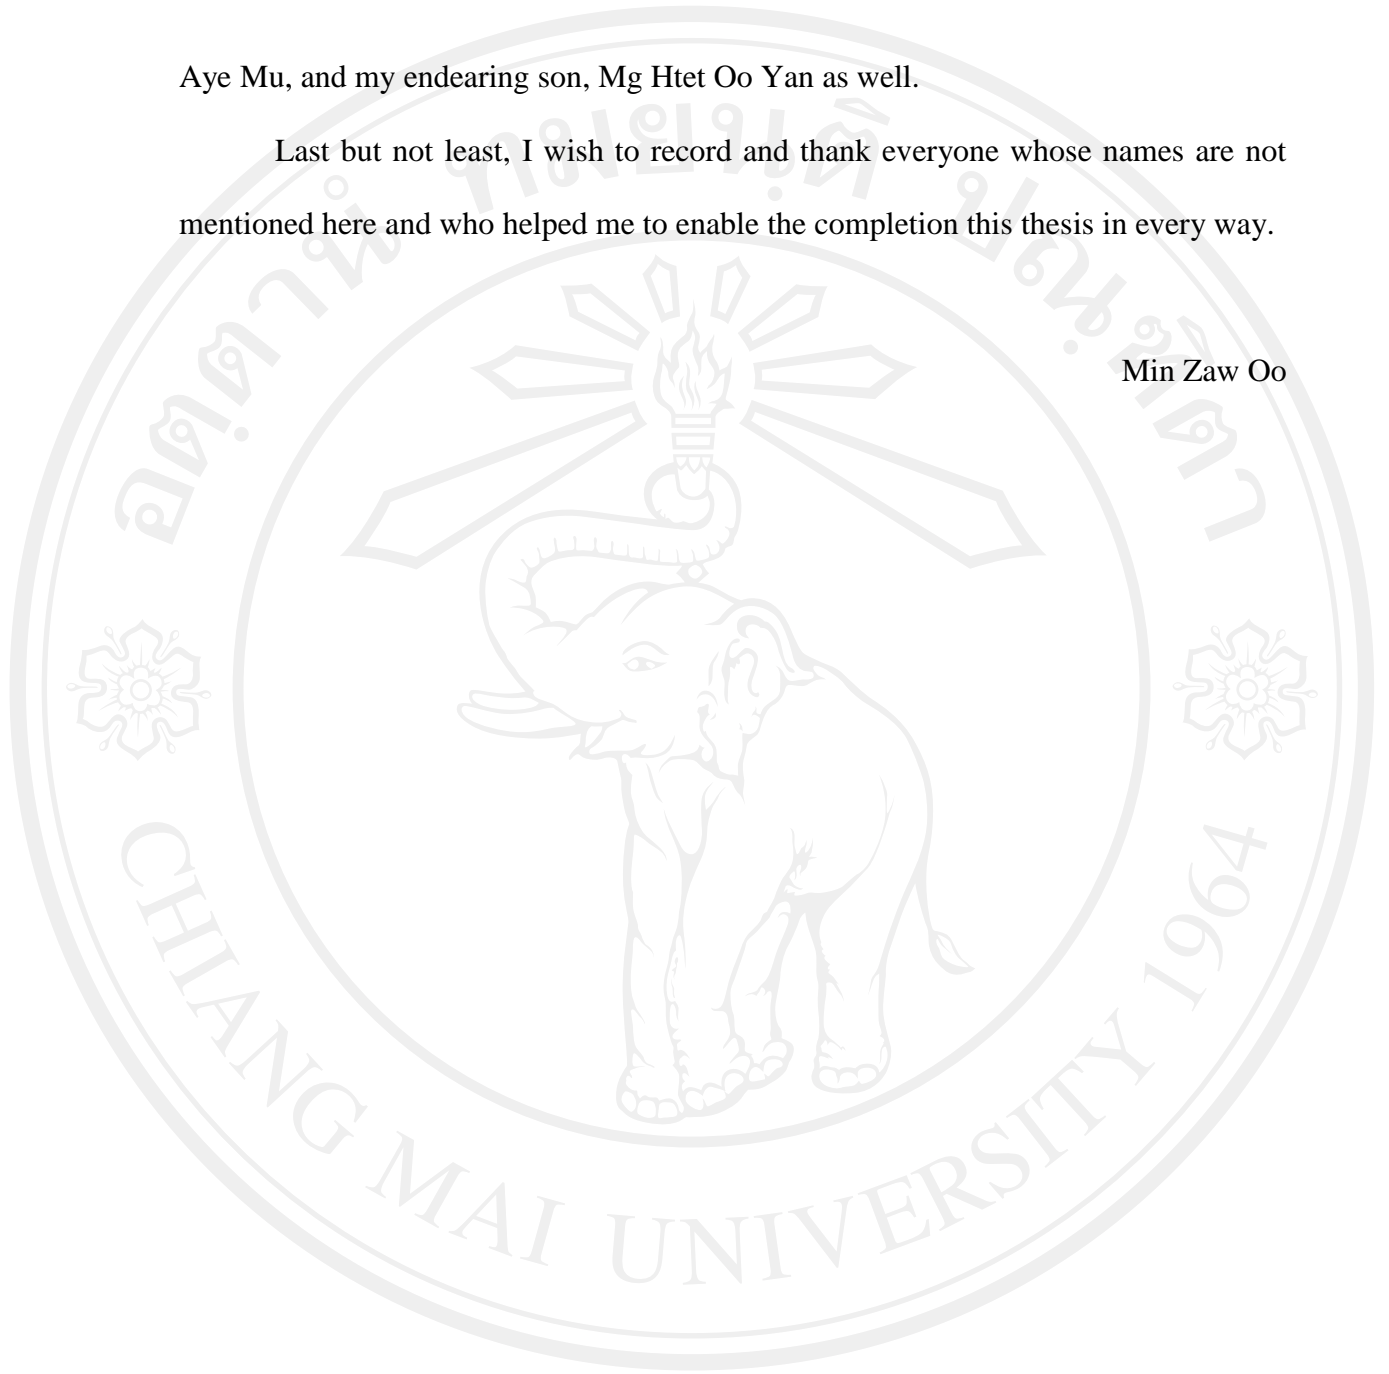

Special thanks go to Saya U Bo Yee, zone manager of sugarcane division, Myanma Industrial Crops Development Enterprise (MICDE) and all village leaders and respondents who willingly answered my survey questionnaires. And also gratitude to my friends; Ko Mg Mg Htwe, Ko Soe Min Oo, Ma khin Mar Cho and Ma Aye Aye Moe who helped during my data collection.

My thanks in particular go to my beloved father and mother for their love and constant supports throughout my life. I felt warmly with my beloved wife, Ma Khin

Aye Mu, and my endearing son, Mg Htet Oo Yan as well.

Last but not least, I wish to record and thank everyone whose names are not mentioned here and who helped me to enable the completion this thesis in every way.

Min Zaw Oo
