ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my sincerest appreciation and gratitude to those, who in one way or another have extended their help and assistance that made the completion of this undertaking possible.

First and foremost my advisor, Asst. Prof. Dr. Methinee Haewsungcharern for her guidance, advice and support throughout the study period. Indeed, without her help this study would not have been possible. I am thankful that she provided me an opportunity to establish my knowledge in the field of postharvest technology. I sincerely respect her for her devotion to work, simplicity, her care, co-operation and encouragement during the study period.

My co-adviser, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Danai Boonyakiat and members of my thesis, Dr. Pichaya Boonprasom, Dr. Tanachai Pankasemsuk and Asst. Prof. Dr. Jatuphong Varith. They provided the valuable suggestions and discussion on the experiments and manuscripts with excellent academic background.

My great appreciation also extends to KMITL and PHT-ADB project whose provided the financial support throughout the Ph.D. program and a grant for the research project.

Thanks are due to the staff in the Postharvest Technology Institute at Chiang Mai University and KMITL. Special thanks to Dr. Adisak Joomwong who provided the emotional support and friendship.

Finally, I appreciate the help, which I received from my loving husband Kunnawut Suwapanich, who always gave me courage and guidance and without his advice and helping support this study would have been difficult, I owe him eternal gratitude and finally emotional support from Pruek and Ying whose inspired me to pursue the doctoral degree.
